Greetings,

April 2013

Welcome to the 2013 edition of the PARC Prisoner's Resource Directory, which has been fully updated as of April 2013. We wish to thank those readers who have written back this past year with letters and stories and who have returned the evaluation forms, as those allow us to get a better idea of the true readership of the directory and let us know which direction to take when adding new categories or information. Special thanks again to those who pass on the directory – according to your reports, each directory is viewed by more than 15 people.

This edition includes many new resources including a section about the various Innocence Projects that are continuing to expand throughout the US in response to the soaring number of prisoner exonerations due to actual innocence (conservative estimates are that between 5 to 10 percent of prisoners are actually innocent of the crimes for which they are currently serving sentences). Many of the new projects now accept cases where evidence other than DNA is used to support the prisoner's claims.

We've also included a new section about post-secondary (college degree) educational opportunities now available through individual state prison systems, or offered at a select few of the prisons in those states. This is a new trend, as some prisons are now partnering with local colleges and universities to provide free degree-earning programs by providing college-level classes in their prisons.

In addition, several new events occurred in the past year concerning solitary confinement in the United States, especially in California, where due to direct prisoner activism and community support, a federal class-action lawsuit was filed challenging the oppressive conditions of confinement being suffered by up to 4,000 California prisoners in the Security Housing at Pelican Bay, Corcoran and other California prisons (Ashker v Brown, 4:09-cv-05796-CW). The lawsuit was filed jointly by the nationally-recognized Center for Constitutional Rights, Oakland-based California Prison Focus, and San Francisco-based Legal Services for Prisoners with Children. According to the complaint, many of the CA prisoners have been held in solitary confinement between 11 – 26 years, with many of those held not even gang members, but rather what the CDCR terms an "associate" (for instance, because the prisoner possessed gang-related art).

Also, the California State Senate held comprehensive hearings in the past year on the issue of solitary confinement, with continuing legislative interest in this growing issue. Additional information concerning citizen involvement may be found at www.prisonhungerstrikesolidarity.wordpress.com.

We hope the directory assists you with information and contacts you may need. One of our goals is to help get the voice of prisoners beyond the walls. Please send us information that can be publicized on our website.

WE ARE NOT A LAW OFFICE OR A LEGAL REFERRAL SERVICE. WE CAN NOT GIVE ANY 'REAL' LEGAL ADVICE.

We do not keep a database of the prisoners with whom we correspond. For any further correspondence, please label the outside of your envelope "Second Contact - No Packet Needed." We do our best to answer individual requests. Sometimes this can take a month or more based on the nature of the request and the number of volunteers we have available. We thank you for your patience. Stamps and monetary support are always needed and welcomed. To those on the outside, feel free to copy and distribute this directory. If you are in our area, call us, come visit. There's always work to do!

See below listings for specific ACLU projects.

ACLU National Prison Project (NPP)
915 15th Street NW, 7th Floor • Washington, DC 20005
202-393-4930 Fax: 202-393-4931 www.aclu.org/prisoners-rights
The NPP handles class action lawsuits to ensure that conditions of confinement in prisons, jails, and other places of detention are constitutional and consistent with health, safety, and human dignity. Does not handle cases on behalf of individual prisoners and does not assist individual prisoners with their criminal cases or post-conviction matters. Litigation is usually limited to cases involving major class actions challenging prison conditions or related matters.

List of NPP Resources

Prisoners' Assistance Directory (2012 resource) (87 pgs.) Directory of national and state-based organizations that assist prisoners and their families in various capacities. (Please note this directory is 87 pages; thus if requested via mail the NPP may just send sections applicable to an individual's specific issue or state of incarceration; for instance, there is no need to send a list of organizations in AL for someone in CA.)
Know Your Rights: Medical, Dental and Mental Health Care (2012 resource) (12 pgs.) Prison officials are obligated under the Eighth Amendment to provide prisoners with adequate medical care. This principle applies regardless of whether the medical care is provided by governmental employees or by private medical staff under contract with the government.

Know Your Rights: Freedom of Religion (2012 Resource) (6 pgs.) Generally, beliefs that are "sincerely held" and "religious" are protected by the First Amendment to the United States Constitution.

Know Your Rights: Publications Sent by Mail (2012 Resource) (6 pgs.) Restrictions on prisoners' access to publications cannot be arbitrary; they must be "reasonably related to legitimate penological interests." That said, in practice, courts often will accept the judgment of prison authorities in deciding whether censoring a publication is reasonable.

Know Your Rights: Environmental Hazards and Toxic Materials (2011 resource) (5 pgs.) Exposing prisoners to dangerous conditions or toxic substances may violate the Eighth Amendment of the Constitution, which prohibits cruel and unusual punishment. Prison officials violate the Eighth Amendment if, with deliberate indifference, they expose a prisoner to a condition that poses an unreasonable risk of serious damage to that prisoner's future health.

Know Your Rights: Legal Rights of Disabled Prisoners (2012 Resource) (7 pgs.) Statutes exist under both the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) to protect the rights of prisoners with disabilities.

Know Your Rights: The Prison Litigation Reform Act (2011 resource) (6 pgs.) The Prison Litigation Reform Act (PLRA) makes it harder for prisoners to file lawsuits in federal court. This fact sheet outlines the information you need to know before filing a lawsuit.

Know Your Rights: Privileged and Non-Privileged Mail (2011 resource) (12 pgs.) The Supreme Court has held that the First Amendment of the United States Constitution entitles prisoners to receive and send mail, subject only to the institution's right to censor letters or withhold delivery if necessary to protect institutional security, and if accompanied by appropriate procedural safeguards.

Write to request printed copies of the above publications, or have family or friends download any of the above publications and mail the pages in to you. (Please note that wait times for printed publications via mail request may be very long due to the volume of prisoner mail.) Do not send any original documents or documents you need returned.

All of Us or None is a national organizing initiative of prisoners and former prisoners to combat the many forms of discrimination that prisoners face upon release. They are active in several local and national campaigns, including BAN THE BOX, a movement to end job discrimination based on felony convictions.

*Have you ever been in juvenile hall, jail, prison, or INS detention?

*Are you currently on probation or on parole?

*Are you having a hard time starting over or finding a job since your release from prison?

*Have you or someone you know been denied housing or welfare due to a felony conviction?

*Would you like to know more about your right to vote with a felony conviction?

*Have you been denied custody of your children because of your felony conviction?

*Has your juvenile record been used against you? We are working towards solutions to these problems.

In 2002, the State settled a class-action lawsuit by agreeing to reform their medical care system, and the federal court appointed a federal Receiver to oversee the reform process. The receiver's job is to bring the level of medical care in California prisons to a standard which no longer violates the U.S. Constitution. Prisoner patients under the control of the CDCR and their families may write to the above address with concerns about health care issues (except for mental health, dental, or substance abuse and treatment). All patient correspondence is carefully reviewed and responded to. Some patient-care issues brought to the Receiver's attention may prompt clinical investigation and action. All information provided to the Receiver is considered in implementing systemic improvements.

UC Berkeley School of Law

215 Boalt Hall • Berkeley, CA 94720-7200

510-642-1741 www.law.berkeley.edu/14763.htm

Berkeley Law students assist California lifer prisoners to navigate the parole process as part of the new Post-Conviction Advocacy Project (P-CAP). The group also works on appeals for inmates who have been denied parole. According to P-CAP staff, indigent lifers regularly receive inadequate representation from parole board-appointed attorneys. It's a high-need area where Berkeley Law students make a difference by providing strong and zealous counsel while strengthening their skills in client counseling and interviewing, legal research and writing, and oral argument." P-CAP's leadership is heartened by some recent trends. Amid California's push to reduce its badly overcrowded prison system, more parole hearings and grants of parole are being approved. The passage of Proposition 36 in 2012 also means that about 3,000 convicted felons serving life terms under the Three Strikes law have become eligible to petition for a reduced sentence.

Prison Law Office

www.donnelly.edu/htdocs/lansing.html

Donnelly College is proud to offer an on-site Associate Degree program to the inmates of the Lansing Correctional Facility in Lansing, Kansas. As a Catholic institution, we believe this program has a truly Christian aim to assist prisoners and directly complements our school's founding mission "to provide education and community services with personal concern for the needs and abilities of each student, especially those who might not otherwise be served." Donnelly began offering classes at Lansing Correctional Facility in 2001. Since then, more than 325 inmates have taken courses: 14 have earned associate degrees and 155 (or 48% of former students) have been released from prison.

Prison University Project

PO Box 492 • San Quentin, CA 94964
 415-455-8088 www.prisonuniversityproject.org
 The mission of the Prison University Project is to provide excellent higher education programs to people incarcerated at San Quentin State Prison; to create a replicable model for such programs; and to stimulate public awareness and meaningful dialogue about higher education and criminal justice in California. Through the College Program at San Quentin, as well as other education and outreach activities, the Prison University Project also aims to challenge popular myths and stereotypes about people in prison; to publicly raise fundamental questions about the practice of incarceration; and to incubate and disseminate alternative concepts of justice, both within and beyond the academy.

University Beyond Bars (UBB)

PO Box 1267 • Poulsbo WA 98370
www.universitybeyondbars.org
 UBB's mission is twofold: 1) to transform Washington's prisons into communities of learning by providing post-secondary education to the incarcerated, particularly to prisoners of color, and 2) to educate the public about prison issues. Prisoners who have earned their GEDs can choose from two educational pathways in UBB: a certificate pathway and a college pathway. The former offers a varied menu of not-for-credit courses; the latter offers college courses for credit through Ohio University, primarily at the associates degree level. UBB also offers gateway college preparatory courses in math and English and a twice monthly Arts & Lectures series open to all prisoners. The Washington prisons served at present are the Monroe Correctional Complex and Washington Corrections Center for Women.

1501 Cherry Street • Philadelphia, PA 19102
215-241-7117 Fax: 215-241-7227 www.prisonervisitation.org
PVS is a nationwide visitation that has 300 volunteers across the U.S. who visit federal and military prisoners. Our goal is to visit any prisoner who wishes to receive a visit and we have access to all prisons and prisoners in the federal and military prison systems. We expect our volunteers to visit once a month. Note that we are very careful whom we appoint as PVS visitors, requiring visitor candidates to fill out our application and to be interviewed by one of our visitor recruiters. We also welcome financial donations, as we do not seek or receive any government money, so that prisoners can trust us and know that we do not report back to the prison system about our visits. Limited services for Spanish-speaking prisoners.

The CIP is not a substitute for the traditional methods of appealing a conviction. Therefore, the CIP will not take cases in which the defendant already has a lawyer, or is entitled to a lawyer at state expense. The CIP will not take a case unless there is a genuine and provable claim of innocence. The CIP gets involved only when the traditional methods of appealing a conviction have failed. Only Colorado cases arising in Colorado will be accepted (state and federal).

The North Carolina Innocence Inquiry Commission (Commission) is the first of its kind in the nation. The Commission was created by the North Carolina General Assembly in 2006 and began operating in 2007. Since then, the Commission has reviewed hundreds of innocence claims and conducted multiple hearings. The Commission is charged with providing an independent and balanced truth-seeking forum for credible post-conviction claims of innocence in North Carolina. The Commission is separate from the appeals process. A person exonerated by the Commission process is declared innocent and cannot be retried for the same crime.

All cases for consideration should be mailed (to the address above) with a brief factual summary of the case, including the specific charges and convictions and a list of the evidence used. No other documents should be submitted for initial review. The Innocence Project only accepts cases on post-conviction appeal in which DNA testing can prove innocence. If the case does not involve biological evidence or DNA, check to see if there is a program in your area that provides broader legal and investigative assistance. We are NOT currently accepting new cases from California or Wisconsin. If you are looking for assistance in California, contact the California Innocence Project or the Northern California Innocence Project. In Wisconsin, please contact the Wisconsin Innocence Project.

Centurion Ministries, Inc.

221 Witherspoon Street • Princeton, NJ 08542-3215
609-921-0334 www.centurionministries.org

Centurion Ministries, Inc. is an advocacy and investigative organization that considers cases of factual innocence primarily in murder and rape cases carrying Life or Death sentences, but other cases of factual innocence may be considered. We do not take on accidental death, self defense cases, or cases where the defendant had any involvement whatsoever in the crime for which he/she was convicted. If you fit the above criteria, you may send us a letter (four pages or less) outlining the facts of your case, with a summary including the following points: what you were convicted of; brief description of the crime; why were you arrested and taken to trial; what evidence was used to convict you; and what evidence there is that points toward your innocence. DO NOT SEND ANY OTHER MATERIALS. We do not accept unsolicited documents. We will respond within eight weeks with a letter that clearly states what we want in the way of information and what you can expect from us if we are able to consider your case. We also publish a newsletter every six months; write to be placed on our mailing list.

Center on Wrongful Convictions Women's Project

Northwestern University School of Law
357 East Chicago Avenue • Chicago, IL 60611-3069
312-503-2391 Fax: 312-502-8977
www.law.northwestern.edu/wrongfulconvictions/women

When women, traditionally viewed as nurturers and protectors, are accused of murdering or sexually abusing children, they are particularly reviled by society, including or course, by police, prosecutors, judges, jurors, and witnesses. In cases in which no crime has occurred—such as those arising from accidental or natural deaths that are mistaken for homicides—convictions are likely to ensue. Because the evidence in such cases is often entirely circumstantial, identifying wrongful convictions is difficult and rectifying them is complicated. The Women's Project of the Center on Wrongful Convictions (CWC) will focus both on litigation aimed at exonerating women in prison for crimes they did not commit and on public education aimed at raising awareness of the factors that lead to their convictions.

Center on Wrongful Convictions of Youth

Northwestern University School of Law
375 E. Chicago Avenue • Chicago IL 60611-3069
312-503-8576 www.cwcy.org

The CWCY is the only innocence project in the country that focuses exclusively on individuals who were convicted or accused of crimes when they were adolescents or younger. The CWCY is dedicated to identifying, investigating, and litigating credible innocence claims of wrongfully convicted young people and preventing future wrongful convictions. We support litigators and advocates in efforts to improve the juvenile and criminal justice system to assure that only reliable evidence is used in prosecuting and convicting youth.

Wisconsin Innocence Project - Shaken Baby Syndrome

University of Wisconsin Madison • Attn: Lindsey Smith
975 Bascom Mall • Madison, WI 53706-1399
608-265-1160
http://www.innocenceproject.org/Content/Shaken_Baby_Syndrome_Litigation_Fellow_Innocence_Network.php

A growing number of innocence cases are now dealing with shaken baby syndrome (SBS), where an adult caregiver is convicted of a crime after the death of a child in his or her care, due to the presence of three internal symptoms that doctors once believe could result only from shaking the child. The Wisconsin Innocence Project is coordinating nationwide efforts to bring this emerging criminal justice issue into the forefront, and is now accepting letters from prisoners serving time for SBS convictions in which the prisoner (mostly women) is actually innocent.

Chicago Innocence Project

205 West Monroe Street, Suite 315 • Chicago, IL 60606
312-263-6213 www.chicagoinnocenceproject.org

The Chicago Innocence Project investigates cases in which prisoners may have been convicted of crimes they did not commit, with priority to murder cases that resulted in sentences of death or life without parole. We involve college students, community residents, private investigators and journalists in the reporting process. We do not represent clients in criminal cases, but after our investigation is completed, outside counsel may bring new evidence of innocence to court. Our fundamental goal is to expose and remedy wrongdoing by the criminal justice system.

Dharma Companions

PO Box 762 • Cotati, CA 94931

<http://dharmacompanions.wordpress.com>

Dharma Companions is an ecumenical Buddhist group that offers ways for inmates to find peace with themselves and others. The group helps people explore the ideas of connection, compassion, and choice, offering inmates a chance to learn and grow under challenging circumstances. We assist people in prison in a number of ways. Volunteers help inmates explore meditation and contemplation and discuss aspects of Buddhist philosophy and ethics through correspondence. We also share books and articles with inmates, providing information about current practice as well as classic texts. Finally, we help prisons connect to a broader set of secular education programs. We do not seek to recruit or convert inmates, but rather to answer questions and provide support for people already interested in Buddhist practice. Write for further information.

Education Behind Bars, by Christopher Zoukis, January 2012, 382 pages, $19.95 + $5.00 shipping fee
Sunbury Press • PO Box 548 • Boiling Springs, PA 17007 855-338-8359 Fax: 855-338-8359 (Also available on Amazon.com)
www.sunburypressstore.com/Education-Behind-Bars-9781934597774.htm?categoryId=-1

Prison education is a concept whose time has come. Education Behind Bars is both a reference guide and a social policy title. Half of the book is dedicated to the need for prison education, its history, travails, current situation, and the refutation of arguments against it. The other half of the book is directed toward the incarcerated student with an up-to-date listing of numerous educational opportunities. Education Behind Bars is the most comprehensive study of prison education on the market to date. The book offers a relatively simple, inexpensive solution to some of our nations most burdensome problems. When we educate a prisoner, we transform a hopeless person with a criminal mentality into a productive citizen who pays taxes, supports his or her family, and contributes to our community. These transformed individuals usually ensure that their children be educated, as well, thereby reducing crime exponentially in future generations. One can read Education Behind Bars from cover to cover, or read only the second half which contains detailed descriptions of hundreds of available educational programs.

Georgetown Law Journal Annual Review of Criminal Procedure, 41st Edition, 1000+ pages, June 2012, $25.00

The 41st edition of the Georgetown Law Journal Annual Review of Criminal Procedure (ARCP) is $25 if shipped directly to prisoners; $85 for all others. The ARCP provides readers with objective, concise and accurate overview of criminal procedure and recent case-law decisions in the United States Supreme Court and each of the 12 Federal Circuit Courts. The ARCP serves as a practical aid to a diverse readership that includes prosecutors and defense attorneys, judges and their law clerks, and prisoners assisting in their own defense or appeal. The $25 discounted rate is only honored for orders sent directly to correctional facilities. Refunds are not available. Orders are shipped USPS, so please allow 4-6 weeks for delivery. ONLY individuals with a DC address should add 6% sales tax; VA 5.0%; MD 6.0%; NY 7.0%; and PA 6.0%. Free shipping and handling.

The Habeas Citebook: Ineffective Assistance of Counsel, by Brandon Sample, 220 pages, 2010, $49.95

Prison Legal News • Box 2420 • West Brattleboro, VT 05303
802-257-1342 www.prisonlegalnews.org

The Habeas Citebook is a much-needed tool for prisoners who are forced to seek relief on their own. The book is thorough, but simple and readable. It starts with a well-organized listing of hundreds of different types of ineffective assistance of counsel, set forth in the form of citations to court rulings - a novel approach that not only acts as a springboard for further research but also saves the prisoner countless hours of preliminary research. The book is also practical and useful. It provides invaluable resources, including templates and forms, that explain what, when, where and how to file for habeas relief. It contains readable summaries of the relevant laws and rules and plain-English explanations of some of the inherently mystifying concepts of habeas law, such as "procedural default" and "certificates of appealability" and the "AEDPA." It includes practical advice on what to do and what not to do on issues such as identifying and selecting the claims to be argued; seeking discovery and evidentiary hearings; and seeking the appointment of counsel. And the book consistently offers critical insights on winning court strategies. Shipping/handling for book orders from Prison Legal News is $6 total for any orders under $49.90, and free for all orders over $49.90. Mail request and check or money order payable to "Prison Legal News."

Jailhouse Lawyers Handbook, 5th edition, 2010, 152 pages, $2.00
The National Lawyers Guild • 132 Nassau Street, Room 922 • New York, NY 10038
212-679-6018 Fax: 212-679-2811 www.nlg.org/jailhouse-lawyers-handbook

The Jailhouse Lawyers Handbook, published jointly by the National Lawyers Guild and the Center for Constitutional Rights, explains how a prisoner can start a lawsuit in federal court to fight against mistreatment and bad conditions in prison. Because most prisoners are in state prisons, the authors focus on those. However, people in federal prisons and city or county jails will be able to use the Handbook also. To receive a paperbound copy, mail $2.00 in money order, check, or stamps to the above address.

Please note that the Handbook is also available for free if downloaded from either of the below-listed websites by an outside source, printed out, and mailed in to the prisoner (if allowed). List of chapter headings: (1) Introduction; (2) Your Legal Options; (3) Your Rights in Prison; (4) Structuring Your Lawsuit; (5) How to Start Your Lawsuit; (6) Legal System & Research; (7) The Legal System and Legal Research; and 12 appendices.

Prisoners' Self Help Litigation Manual by John Boston & Dan Manville, 4th edition, 2010, 960 pages, $39.95

Prison Legal News • Box 2420 • West Brattleboro, VT 05303
802-257-1342 www.prisonlegalnews.org

The 4th edition of the Prisoners' Self-Help Litigation Manual is an indispensable guide for prisoners and prisoner advocates seeking to understand the rights guaranteed to prisoners by law and how to protect those rights. Clear, comprehensive, practical advice provides prisoners with everything they need to know on conditions of confinement, civil liberties in prison, procedural due process, the legal system, how to litigate, conducting effective legal research, and writing legal documents. Written by two legal and penitentiary experts with intimate knowledge of prisoner's rights and legal aid work, authors John Boston and Daniel E. Manville strategically focus on federal constitutional law, providing prisoners and those wishing to assist them with the most important information concerning legal rights. Shipping/handling for book orders from Prison Legal News is $6 total for any orders under $49.90, and free for all orders over $49.90. Mail request and check or money order payable to "Prison Legal News."

Prisoner Self-Help Manual to Challenge Gang Validation, 5th edition, 2011, $15 for prisoners (may pay with stamps), $22 for all others
California Prison Focus • 1904 Franklin Street, Suite 507 • Oakland, CA 94612. 510-836-7222 www.prisons.org

This manual is for prisoners who have been validated by CDCR as a gang member or associate, but have no real links or gang activity. Prisoners and advocates say that in addition to making "false validations," the CDCR keeps some prisoners in solitary indefinitely based on gang validations that are a decade or more old. This is despite a federal court decision that was supposed to end such practices. Prisoners may pay with stamps.

Survivors Manual: Surviving in Solitary, by Bonnie Kerness, 5th Edition, June 2012, 94 pages, Free to Prisoners, $3 for all others
AFSC Prison Watch Project • 89 Market Street, 6th Floor • Newark, NJ 07102 bkerness@afsc.org www.afsc.org

In this powerful collection of voices from solitary, people currently or formerly held in isolation vividly describe their conditions and their daily lives. They also write about how they struggle to keep mind, body, and soul together in an environment that is designed to break them down. Many also analyze the political, economic, and social forces that shape their torturous situation. The collection also includes some stunning artwork and poetry. Free to prisoners, $3 for all others. Stamps welcome.

STANDARD MINIMUM RULES FOR THE TREATMENT OF PRISONERS

Approved: United Nations Congress on the Prevention of Crime and the Treatment of Offenders, held at Geneva in 1955, and approved by the Economic and Social Council by resolutions 663 C (XXIV) of 31 July 1957 and 2076 (LXII) of 13 May 1977.

Accommodations

*Cells for individuals should not be used to accommodate two or more persons overnight; dormitory facilities are to be supervised at night.

Exercise and Sport

*If not employed in outdoor work, every prisoner shall have at least one hour of exercise in the open air, weather permitting.

*Young prisoners and others of suitable age and physique are to receive physical and recreational training.

Medical Services

*Pre-natal and post-natal care and treatment are to be provided by women's institutions; where nursing infants are allowed to remain with their mothers, a nursery staffed by qualified persons is needed.

*The medical officer shall see all sick prisoners daily, along with those who complain of illness or are referred to his/her attention.

*The medical officer is to report to the director on prisoners whose health is jeopardized by continued imprisonment and on the quality of the food, hygiene, bedding, clothing, and physical regimen of the prisoners.

Discipline and Punishment

*Cruel, inhuman, and/or degrading punishments, including corporal punishment and restriction to a dark cell, shall be prohibited.

Instruments of Restraint

*Handcuffs, straitjackets, and other instruments of restraint are never to be applied as a punishment, and irons and chains are not to be used as means of restraint.

Information to and Complaints by Prisoners

*Upon admission, prisoners shall be informed of the regulations they are to live by and of authorized channels for seeking information and making complaints.

*Prisoners are to have the right to make complaints to the director of the institution, as well as to the central prison administration and the judicial authority, in the proper form but without censorship as to substance, and they are to have the opportunity to speak directly to an inspector of prisons outside the presence of institutional staff members.

*Unless evidently frivolous, each complaint shall be replied to promptly.

Contacts with the Outside World

*Prisoners are to be allowed regular contact with family and friends, by both correspondence and personal visits.

*Prisoners who are foreign nationals shall be allowed communication with diplomatic and consular representatives of their State, or a State or international authority that has taken charge of their interests.

*Prisoners are to be kept informed of current events and important items of news.

Books

*Every institution shall maintain for the use of prisoners a library with recreational and instructional books.

Guiding Principles

*The prison system must not aggravate unnecessarily the suffering inherent in a prisoner's loss of self-determination and liberty.

*Prisons should utilize all remedial, educational, medical, and spiritual forms of assistance to treat the prisoner's needs and facilitate his return to society as a law-abiding member.

*Government or private agencies should be available for the after care of released prisoners

Treatment

*Treatment of prisoners under sentence shall be directed to achieve the capacity for law-abiding and self-supporting lives, utilizing professional services whenever possible.

Education and Recreation

*The ongoing education of prisoners is to be facilitated, and schooling of illiterates and youthful prisoners is to be considered compulsory.

*Recreational and cultural activities are to be made available.
